SOME SENATORS WORKED. Important Session Held by the Committee on Comme The Senate Committee on Commerce held a very important Fourth of July session to-day. Several members who desired to get away for the remainder of the week wanted the session held and asked to have certain matters in which they were interested disposed of.

An important amendment was made at the equest of Senator Washburn, of Minnesota, in relation to the improvement of the Mississippi river between St. Paul and Minneapolis, sippi river between St. Paul and Minneapolls, where navigation is interrupted by rapids. The committee authorized an amendment providing for the building of a lock in the river to cost $600,000, the work to be done under the contract system, so as to insure continuous progress when once started.

The money to begin the work is to be taken from that appropriated heretofore for the upper reach of the Mississippi, which is under the contract system. It is expected another lock will be necessary, but the one authorized will extend navigation to Minneapolis, which has not been possible in the past.

The committee has also entirely remodeled factory both to the shipping interests and the lumbermen.

Increases were made for Oregon as follows:
Yaquina bay, from $35,000 to $50,000; for lower Columbia and Willamette rivers, from $35,000 to $50,000; for work at the mouth of the Columbia to complete the jettles, from

A delegation of New Origans men was heard by the committee, and urged sufficient appro-priations to make the harbor at that place secure.

Topical Study of the Bible.

A noon-hour mission is to be opened in the Rechabite hall (Four-and-a-half street and Pennsylvania avenue) for popular topical study of the Bible, beginning to-day and continuing daily, Sundays excepted. These studies are to be led by William E. Brown, and will embrace, "without speculation as to the future, all past and, current events in symbolic prophesy." Mr. Brown has given special to important features. of its progress in its return to the House this norning and the probable reference to-morrow to the Ways and Means Committee. It is possible that the bill will be taken up to-day on unanimous consent, but this is improbable, as it is usual to allow a bill returned to lie on the Speaker's table a day before being taken up, and there is no particular reason except that of haste why the usual procedure should not be followed.

If the Ways and Means Committee take up the bill on Friday it is expected that they will be able to report it back to the House with mmendations for non-concurrence by Saturday. It is likely, therefore, that the conference can be appointed on that day.

There has been considerable speculation as to whom these conferees would be, and what to whom these conferees would be, and what would be the number. The House is not obliged to sigree with the Senate in the number of its conferees, but it is now generally believed that the desire to give desired recognition to as many members of the committee as possible will lead to a committee of seven. They will probably be the first four Democrats and the first three Republicans on the Ways and Means Committee Messrs, Wilson, of West Virginia; McMillin, of Tennessee; Turner, of Georgia; Monigomery, of Kentucky, Democrats; Reed, of Maine; Burrows, of Michigan, and Payne, of New York, Republicans. While this has not been fully determined upon, it is the understanding among termined upon, it is the understanding among those who have been talking about the sub-

Between him are Cockran, of New York, and Stevens, of Massachusetts.

There has been some talk of Mr Stevens, but as he did not vote for the bill when it passed the House he has raied filmself out. Chairman Wilson, of the Ways and Means Committee, would like very much to have Mr. Breekinridge, of Arkansas, on the confer-ence committee, but he is the last Democratic member, and his argaintenen probably would ence committee, but he is the last Democratic member, and his appointment probably would displease Mr. Montgomery, a warm friend and political associate of the Speaker. Even though Breckinridge is not a conferse, he will be consulted as to the matters in dispute.

The Senate conferrers already appointed are Messrs. Jones, Voorhees, Vest and Harris, Democrats: and Messrs. Sherman, Aldrich and Allison, Republicans.

The question of interest now is how long will it take to get the bill through conference and to an agreement. There are chances for delay at a number of laces Mr. Wilson's formal motion for a reference to the Ways and Means Committee is debatable and may lead to some attempts to instruct the committee as to its course. This, however, is not expected by Mr. Catchings, of the Committee on Rules, and it is intimated that in case of on Rules, and it is intimated that in case of such attempts at delay a rul swill be brought in at once to force an immediate vote on the motion.

The committee will advocate non-concur-rence in a straightforward way, and the Speaker without instruction will appoint the conferees. The recommendation of non-concurrence is of course debatable. The same remedy of a special rule may again be invoked to prevent unnecessary delay. REPORTS NAME TOWN TOWN

This will enable the conference committee to get to work immediately, and it is intended to make reports from time to time as the various schedules of the bill are agreed upon. Such reports are always privileged, and can be brought in in the midst of any other delate or discussion. No time can be predicted with certainty for the continuance of the conference, but it is hoped that two weeks will prove sufficient.

The report which Health Officer Hammett is about to issue promises to be quite an exhaustive and lengthy one, and will deal with the present condition of the well water of the city and the number of typhoid cases result-evening at Le Mardelay's restaurant to celebrate the first assault on the "mamelon vert," or green earthwork, at Sebastopol. Colonel Aronssohn presided, and was supported by centenarian ex-Sergeant Rose, wearing the Crimean medal, and by another veteran of 100 years old. Rose has also the Saint Helena medal, which was worn by two centenarian fellow-diners.

The three veterans live in the country. Rose came yesterday morning from Sousesmes, near Chambord, accompanied by a grandson agred 50 and a great-great-granddaughter. He has been for forty years a widower. Were it not for deafness he would not, he savs, be painfully sware of his great age. The people of his village are proud to have him among them, and his pension and a bit of sandy land aid to keep him in comfort. He was wounded at Mayence. The man on the left of Col. Aronssohn was the son of a soldier killed at Jemappes, and was himself brought up in the "Enfants de la Troupe." He was on guard at Compiegne when the Empress Marie Louise arrived there from Vienna to be married.

One hundred veterans who were in the "mamelon vert" affair sat down to dinner. Forty of them were furnished by the Hotel des Invalides. There were but a small number of officers. Marshal Canrobert was too ill to attend.

Col. Aronssohn, in drinking the health of the three centenarians, said they were a proof that hard lines were as good a condition as could be for those who had high hearts and good, generous blood to keep them warm. He proposed the health of the President of the republic and toasted the Russian n ation. The Necessity of shouldn't be underestimated. You owe it to your family as a duty. Making your will doesn't necessarily imply that your term of life is going to be shortened. Think this matter over and drop in and talk the matter over with our Mr. McKenney. This company prepares and keeps wills at its expense—provided it is named as executor.
